Subject: New Phase of the Project

Good morning, afternoon, or evening Mr. Roberto Alcivar,

I hope this message finds you well.

First and foremost, on behalf of the Stocktaking team, we would like to thank you in advance for your participation throughout the initial phase of the project. Undoubtedly, your cooperation was a key piece that contributed to the initial development.

The purpose of this message is to share an update regarding the Software Engineering project. We are entering a new chapter and are eager to work together with you for the development and deployment of the web and mobile application.

As a first step, we need to schedule a meeting with you to review certain aspects of the upcoming progress, as well as to discuss certain resources that we will be using on the company's part from now on.

I propose that the meeting potentially take place on Monday, May 29th, at 16:30. If you have a different time in mind, we will accept it without any issue.

With nothing else to add, except to express our gratitude for your patience and loyalty.

Best regards.
