Good morning, afternoon, or evening Mr. Roberto Alcivar,

I hope this message finds you well.

The purpose of this message is to inquire about the status of the business API, to begin the backend development. It's worth mentioning that we were able to review the endpoint you provided us in Postman.

If it's ready, we could schedule a meeting to discuss the API and permissions in more detail.

With nothing else to add, except to express our gratitude for your patience and loyalty.

Best regards.
